Love Is In the Air!

Well...the groundhog didn't see his shadow...early spring is on its way. ☺ What an interesting week of weather! Who would have thought we would go from warm spring-like weather to snow flurries and freezing temps again! ☺ With that said, please remember to still send your child in with warm coats, gloves and hats if you have them! We may never know what the weather will bring!

We have our party on Thursday and it's also a half day on Thursday! ☺ Don't forget that we also have no school next Friday as we will have district institute.

This week we were working on Valentine's day activities and will continue next week. ☺ Please remember to not wait until the last minute to have your child write names on their valentines, as doing a few at a time over several days works better. Also, please be sure to have your child write the names. Thank you for all you do!
