CURRENT EVENTS

Love Is In the Air!

Well...I wonder if the groundhog will see his shadow I'm still hoping for a little more snow! Next week we will begin working on Valentine's day activities and will continue for the next two weeks! The children are getting more anxious the closer it gets to Valentine's Day, and they seem so excited that they get a chance to hand out their own cards. 😊 Please remember to NOT wait until the last minute to have your child write names on their valentines, as doing a few at a time over several days works better. Also, please be sure to have your child write the names. The help you give at home with learning makes your child become more successful in our classroom and for their years ahead! Thank you for all you do!

100 Day Celebration

We have officially made it to our 100th day of Kindergarten and loved celebrating yesterday. The boys and girls got to do different activities in different classrooms. Our favorite was making our 100 day trail mix with lots of goodies. A HUGE thank you to our parents who donated items for our 100th day snack.

Rainbow Math Update

Our students are working hard to pass their levels

ALL 19 students have passed-Level A
4 Students have passed-Level B
Keep up the hard work.

JUMP ROPE FOR HEART!

A note is coming home today explaining how you can contribute to a great cause! We will be jump roping in PE class in February to support Kids Heart Challenge! It would be great to see how many donations we can get from our school! I know the kids are excited about the prizes they can earn, but better yet, those who get $100 in donations, get their name in a drawing to be PE teacher of the day with Mr. Page. Oh my goodness, how exciting!!!! Our school raised over $3,000 last year. Awesome.

NEXT WEEK: Valentine Activities
